CREATING A TOKEN FIT FOR LEGENDS

the cryptocurrency market is highly competitive, and many existing platforms lack the engagement and excitement necessary to attract and retain users. at the same time, there is a growing interest in decentralized finance (defi) and AI, which provide new opportunities for investment and wealth creation.

DeFi Sun Wukong addresses these challenges by combining the benefits of DeFi and AI with the mythology of sun wukong, creating a token that is both fun and profitable.

DeFi Sun Wukong Oracle, is an AI trading bot which uses real-time market data to execute buy & sell orders, powered by DeFi Sun Wukong token.

the project will include staking and airdrop features, which provide holders with additional ways to grow their wealth

We are building a PROFITABLE ecosystem

The DeFi SunWukong platform uses a native token, $DSW, to power its ecosystem. The token will be used for staking, governance, and to buy access to DSW Oracle. The token economics are designed to incentivize long-term engagement and to align the interests of token holders with the success of the platform.

The AI industry is still developing, and the combination of decentralized technology and AI is not well explored yet. This gives our token a chance to establish a strong presence in this niche market and compete with industry leaders. Additionally, by being an early entrant in this space, DSW has the potential to set the standards for the industry and shape the direction of future developments. Furthermore, as the industry continues to grow, the potential for growth and success for DeFi Sun Wukong within this niche is significant

Tokenomics

Eric Voorhees

"I'm much more confident with crypto than with banks or fiat currency because i can actually control it, and the money supply is transparent, stated up front."

We have designed our token economics to align with market standards, in order to provide the most beneficial environment for our supporters. High taxes can limit holders' ability to move their tokens, which is why we have created token economics that prioritize the long-term interests of holders. By encouraging the usage and circulation of our token, we are able to enhance the value of our token over time. Furthermore, we are continuously monitoring the market conditions and adjusting our token economics accordingly to ensure that it remains competitive and attractive for holders and investors. Additionally, our token economics also align with our overall vision and mission, which is to create a sustainable, decentralized ecosystem that benefits all participants.
